

2019 Sponsorship Opportunities

Dogwood Alliance exists to defend Southern forests, and we're really good at it.

We've achieved formidable victories for communities and forests of the South through grassroots organizing, holding corporations and governments accountable, and working to conserve millions of acres of Southern forests across 14 states.

Since 2018, forest protection is now being integrated into the narrative of the justice movement in the South and across the US. Dogwood Alliance made that happen.

Over the past 20+ years we've built an audience who associates our brand with integrity, victory, and, of course, the magnificent forests of the South.

Our audience values our strong, strategic activism, our commitment to justice, and our savvy corporate negotiations.

We have an engaged audience of action-takers here in Asheville, across the Southeast and throughout the US who support businesses that match their values.

- Average Facebook post reach of 30,000+
- Over 400,000 video views in 2018
- Referenced in 224 media stories in 2018
- Email list of 50,000
- Over 6,100 monthly visitors to our website year-round

...All growing steadily

Our ideal partners

If you value the earth and value people, and take active steps to improve the natural world (such as recycling, using sustainable packaging, using solar energy, etc.) people's lives (living wage, matching corporate donations, health access and benefits, equity and inclusion practices, etc.), then partnering with Dogwood Alliance will be a fabulous fit!

What's in it for you.

Access to an audience who ...

Shares your values.

Enjoys taking action and being a part of making a difference in the world

Buys products and services that show commitment to the environment

Research shows that customers who can identify with the values of a brand are more likely to remain loyal to that brand for life.

Popular naturalist and regional storyteller, Doug Elliot performs to a packed house of all ages for our first Woods & Wilds event in Asheville, NC in 2016.

*"...the personal storytelling movement has grown from small gatherings in living rooms and cafes to sold-out shows in large theatres."

Dr. Thomas RaShad Easley, performing at Stories Happen in Forests (SHiF) at the Motorco in Durham, NC in 2017

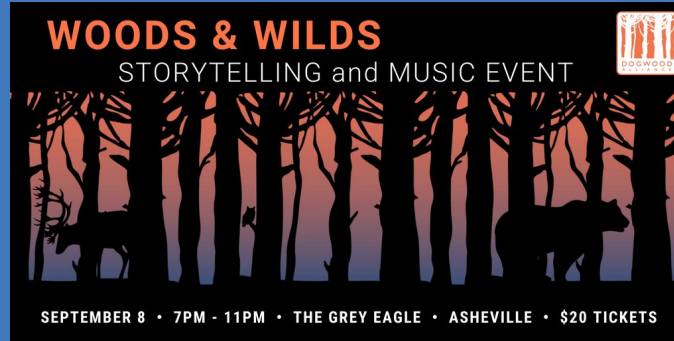

*“Stories Happen in Forests in Durham was the first Dogwood event I ever attended. The turnout was extraordinary. The storytelling, diversity, people- and culture-centered environmentalism, and celebratory reframing of Southern culture, made the whole event a living, breathing embodiment of the Dogwood brand.

I woke up tired, grateful and proud.”
